

Lift & Recline Chairs

Lift and recline chairs are designed to assist users when rising from a seated position. They offer the added benefit of an electric recline mechanism, including footboard raise and are available as either a standard single motor - one control operating the reclining of the seat back whilst simultaneously raising the footboard, or as dual motor which has independent controls for each feature.

Important considerations when deciding which chair to choose include the user's height and weight, the level of support required and the available choices of fabrics and colours. We recommend you discuss your specific requirements with a trained consultant or take advantage of our free home trials to ensure suitability and peace of mind.

2-position = TV recline

3-position = full recline (sleeping position)

Infinite-position = full recline with independent legrest function
